New curators chief elected

Members of the Georgia Historical Society have elected Bill Jones III of Sea Island to chair the board of curators, along with three other new officers and three new board members.

Those elected for three-year terms to the board were Chris Humes of Savannah, Commissioner of Labor Michael Thurmond of Atlanta and Mark Smith of Savannah. Elected to serve an additional three years were Jimmy Blanchard of Columbus and Atlantans Phil Jacobs and John Wallace.

Besides Jones, the three other officers elected were Robert Brown Jr. of Decatur, vice chairman; John Helmken II of Savannah, treasurer; and Shell Knox of Augusta, secretary.
