_____ Accentuate the Positive: Savannah's Johnny Mercer □ As scheduled

Local elementary and middle school students are invited to participate in an interactive program with a local actor portraying the 2009 Georgia Days Honoree. Focusing on his life in his hometown of Savannah, this high-energy musical presentation will show audiences how Mercer's experiences as a young man in Savannah helped him achieve international acclaim as an artist and writer. Programs scheduled on first-come, first-served basis and are dependent on interpreter availability. There is no charge for these programs, but reservations are required.

Black History Month Essay and Public Speaking Contest

Public Event held Monday, February 9, 2009, 5:30 P.M. at the Georgia Historical Society, 501 Whitaker Street, Savannah

Open to area middle and high school students, the 2009 contest will focus on Savannah in the Civil Rights Movement. Students and teachers should visit www.georgiahistory.com and follow the Essay Contest link for more information. Finalists from the essay portion will compete in a public speaking event to be held at the Georgia Historical Society and judged by an independent panel representing the academic and media communities. Prizes to be awarded. Reception to follow. In partnership with Telfair Museum of Art. No reservations required for participation.
